

Job Vacancy Notice

Job Title: Assistant Professor - Department of Sciences
Job ID: 25286
Location: John Jay College
Regular/Temporary: Regular

FACULTY VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

The Department of Sciences is seeking a tenure-track faculty member with advanced expertise in Criminalistics/Physical Evidence Analysis. Applicants should possess a Ph.D. in Forensic Science or Criminalistics or relevant fields such as Analytical Chemistry, Physical Chemistry, Geology, Imaging Science or Materials Science with research expertise in forensic science. Equivalent experience in the area of Criminalistics or a closely related field, especially in evidence traces with micro and ultra-micro analysis methods at the federal, state, local or private level would be considered. The ideal candidate will have an active and productive research agenda, demonstrated expertise teaching criminalistics or other forensic science courses, and a commitment to mentoring undergraduate and graduate students. Candidates with a history of external funding, active collaborations, or contributions to the field of forensic science is preferred. The successful applicant will be responsible for teaching and research in the areas of General Criminalistics and may be responsible for teaching to science and non-science majors in the chemical, biological and forensic sciences. The successful applicant will be expected to share responsibility for committee and department assignments, administrative and supervisory functions, and perform guidance duties for the Department of Sciences.

John Jay College of Criminal Justice, a senior college of the City University of New York (CUNY), is an internationally recognized leader in educating for justice, committed to the advancement of justice and just societies under the leadership of President Karol V. Mason, former U.S. Assistant Attorney General. It is a public liberal arts institution that enriches the learning experience by highlighting themes of justice across the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences. John Jay is a federally designated Hispanic-serving institution, it is ranked third in the nation in Black student success, and it is a top ten institution for promoting student social mobility. John Jay is proud to serve a diverse and dynamic student body of 15,000 students that includes nearly fifty percent students who are first in their family to attend college as well as students who are immigrants, from low-income families, or from other historically underrepresented groups in higher education.

The Department of Sciences is housed within a 600,000 square foot building, constructed in 2011, that includes black-box theater, state-of-the-art lab space, a moot court, and supports a variety of virtual learning settings. Located steps from Lincoln Center at the cultural heart of New York City, the College participates in the doctoral programs of the Graduate Center of CUNY and offers bachelor's and master's degrees both in traditional criminal justice-related fields of study as well as in a robust portfolio of liberal arts and sciences programs that highlight themes of justice across the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences. The College seeks staff and faculty members who thrive in multicultural academic environments and are committed to access and excellence in higher education.

Candidates will be required to provide proof of vaccination against COVID-19 upon commencing employment. Exemption (medical or religious) requests to this requirement will be considered in accordance with applicable law. Fully vaccinated is defined for this purpose as being at least two weeks past their final dose of and authorized COVID-19 vaccine regimen. Final candidates are required to be fully vaccinated as of their first day of employment.

QUALIFICATIONS

Candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. degree in the area(s) of Criminalistics or closely related area. Also required are the ability to teach successfully, demonstrated scholarship or achievement (e.g., established publication record in the peer-reviewed scientific literature), and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution. Candidates should also show promise for obtaining external funding for their research interests.

COMPENSATION

Salary commensurate with academic accomplishments and experience within the range of $72,667 - $99,532.

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide mentoring and support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.
